

Flying doctors

▶ Flight Nurse Keryn Bolte – Royal Flying Doctor Service, Broken Hill Base, Australia
posted by RFDS

Flight Nurse Keryn Bolte takes us on a journey inside the world of the Flying Doctor at the Broken Hill Base.

Uploaded: 19/09/2010

Licence: YouTube standard

1 Before watching the video, in pairs discuss what you think the job of a flight nurse is.

2 Answer the following questions.

- When and how did Keryn know about the Flying Doctors?
- What is her typical day like?
- What sort of equipment do they have on board?
- How do the people she meets in the remotest parts of Australia help her?
- Does she get on well with her colleagues?
- What does she say about the people she meets?

3 Watch the video again and complete the following sentences (you will need three words at most).

- It's been a career of mine to become a flight nurse with
- You get a phone call at 3 a.m. It's, it's blowing gale, you've got to get out and get
- You turn up at a station of nowhere and you are expecting to find no one and there's standing around.
- Everybody makes the best in a
- The best thing about the job is we have the most; we have a fantastic bunch of people that I with everyday.
- for the same reason, because we want to provide a medical service to rural and remote Australia.

The Royal Flying Doctors Service of Australia